(1999, c. 181)

C. The six members of council shall be elected by the qualified voters of the town in 2000. Members of the council shall be elected for a term of four years; but upon the first assembling of the council qualifying for office in 2000, the members thereof shall be divided into two equal classes of three members each, to be determined by lot, and the terms of the members of the first class shall be two years, and that of the second class four years. Thereafter, in each even-numbered year, beginning in 2002, on the dates specified by general law for municipal elections, three members of council shall be elected for terms of four years each. The persons so elected shall qualify and take office on the first day of July following their election. They shall continue to serve until their successors are duly elected, qualified and assume office. The present mayor and members of council shall continue in office until the expiration of the terms for which they were respectively elected.

D. Any person qualified to vote in town elections shall be eligible for the office of council member. (1999, c. 181)

§ 3.2. Mayor.

In 2000 and every four years thereafter, on the dates specified by general law for municipal elections, the mayor shall be elected for a term of four years. The person so elected as mayor shall qualify and take office on the first day of July following his or her election and shall continue to serve until his or her successor is duly elected, qualifies and assumes office. Any person qualified to vote in town elections shall be eligible for the office of mayor. The mayor shall preside at meetings of council and shall be recognized as head of the town government for ceremonial purposes and by the Governor for the purposes of military law. The mayor shall have the same powers and duties as other members of the council but shall have a vote on matters before the council only in instances of a tie vote among council members present and voting. (1999, c. 181)

§ 3.3. Vice mayor.

At its first meeting in July of every even-numbered year, the council, by majority vote, shall select from its membership one member to serve as vice mayor. The vice mayor shall preside over meetings of the council in the absence of the mayor. (1999, c. 181)

Vacancies on the council and in the office of mayor and vice mayor shall be filled by a majority vote of the members of council until the vacancy is filled in accordance with the provisions of Title 24.2 of the Code of Virginia. (1999, c. 181)

§ 3.5. Meetings of council.

The council shall fix the time of its regular meetings, which shall be at least once each month; however, the council may, by majority vote, dispense with any two such regular meetings per year. Except as herein provided, the council shall follow the latest edition of Robert's Rules of Order for the rules of procedure necessary for the orderly conduct of its business except where it is inconsistent with the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia. Minutes shall be kept of its official proceedings, and its meetings shall be open to the public unless an executive session is called according to law. Special meetings may be called at any time by the mayor or any four members of the council, provided that the members of council are given reasonable notice of such meetings. No business shall be transacted at the special meeting except that for which it shall be called. (1999, c. 181)

§ 4.2. Legislative procedure, etc.
