3 Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Virginia:

4 1. That § 44-146.23 of the Code of Virginia is amended and reenacted as follows:

5 § 44-146.23. Immunity from liability.

6 A. Neither the Commonwealth; nor any political subdivision thereof; nor federal agencies; nor 7 other public or private agencies, including hospitals as that term is defined in § 8.01-581.1; nor, except 8 in cases of willful misconduct, public or private employees; nor representatives of any of them, engaged 9 in any emergency services activities, while complying with or attempting to comply with this chapter or 10 any rule, regulation, or executive order promulgated pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, shall be 11 liable for the death of, or any injury to, persons or damage to property as a result of such activities. The 12 provisions of this section shall not affect the right of any person to receive benefits to which he would 13 otherwise be entitled under this chapter, or under the Workers' Compensation Act (§ 65.2-100 et seq.),
14 or under any pension law, nor the right of any such person to receive any benefits or compensation
15 under any act of Congress. For the purposes of the immunity conferred by this subsection, 16 representatives of public or private employees shall include, but shall not be limited to, volunteers in 17 state and local services who are persons who serve in a Medical Reserve Corps (MRC) unit or on a 18 Community Emergency Response Team (CERT).

19 B. Any person owning or controlling real estate or other premises who voluntarily and without 20 compensation grants a license or privilege, or otherwise permits the designation or use of the whole or 21 any part or parts of such real estate or premises for the purpose of sheltering persons, of emergency 22 access or of other uses relating to emergency services shall, together with his successors in interest, if 23 any, not be liable for negligently causing the death of, or injury to any person on or about such real

24 estate or premises or for loss of or damage to the property of any person on or about such real estate or 25 premises during such actual or impending disaster.

26 C. If any person holds a license, certificate, or other permit issued by any state, or political 27 subdivision thereof, evidencing the meeting of qualifications for professional, mechanical, or other 28 skills, the person may gratuitously render aid involving that skill in the Commonwealth during a 29 disaster, and such person shall not be liable for negligently causing the death of, or injury to, any person 30 or for the loss of, or damage to, the property of any person resulting from such gratuitous service.

31 D. No person, firm or corporation which gratuitously services or repairs any electronic devices or 32 equipment under the provisions of this section after having been approved for the purposes by the State
33 Coordinator shall be liable for negligently causing the death of, or injury to, any person or for the loss 34 of, or damage to, the property of any person resulting from any defect or imperfection in any such 35 device or equipment so gratuitously serviced or repaired.

36 E. Notwithstanding any law to the contrary, no individual, partnership, corporation, association, 37 or other legal entity shall be liable in civil damages as a result of acts taken voluntarily and without 38 compensation in the course of rendering care, assistance, or advice with respect to an incident creating a 39 danger to person, property, or the environment as a result of an actual or threatened discharge of a 40 hazardous substance, or in preventing, cleaning up, treating, or disposing of or attempting to prevent,
41 clean up, treat, or dispose of any such discharge, provided that such acts are taken under the direction of 42 state or local authorities responding to the incident. This section shall not preclude liability for civil 43 damages as a result of gross negligence, recklessness or willful misconduct. The provisions of this 44 section shall not affect the right of any person to receive benefits to which he would otherwise be 45 entitled under this chapter, or under the Workers' Compensation Act (§ 65.2-100 et seq.), or under any 46 pension law, nor the right of any such person to receive any benefits or compensation under any act of 47 Congress. The immunity provided by the provisions of this paragraph shall be in addition to, not in lieu 48 of, any immunities provided by § 8.01-225.
